TRUSTEES OPEN BIDS ON LIGHTING FIXTURES

Figures for Supplying City Hall Equipment Higher Than Was Expected; No Award Made.

Like every other step in the building and equipping of the new city hall, the installation of electric lighting fixtures is going to cost a considerable sum more than was expected. This fact was brought out at Monday night's meeting of the city trustees. Monday night was the time set for the opening of bids for this work, and with all members of the board present, such bids as had been submitted were read. They were three in number, the firms bidding being the Brass and Bronze Lighting Fixture Manufacturing Company and the Roberts Manufacturing Company, both of San Francisco, and Charles F. Schurk of this city. The sums bid were as follows: Brass and Bronze Lighting Fixture Manufacturing Company, $2265; Roberts Manufacturing Company, $2120; C. F. Schurk, $2200.

As it had been expected that the fixtures could be secured for about $1500, the awarding of the contract was laid over for one week. A representative of the Roberts Company was present and spoke briefly on the subject of lighting fixtures, among other things calling the attention of the board to the fact that it was expected there would be an increase in the price of glass goods within a short time and also that there had been less advance in the price of lighting fixtures during and since the war than in most other lines of manufactured goods.

Another thing pertaining to the fitting out of the new city hall that was considered at Monday night's meeting was window shades. S. Neri of this city submitted samples of four different kinds of shades, with the price for each. The figures called for fifty-four shades, the cost of the different grades running from $291.60 for the cheapest to the $338.50 for the best. The matter of window shades was also laid over till the next meeting of the board.

The securing of furniture for the city hall was discussed, and the members of the board decided to make a trip to San Francisco Wednesday and inspect furniture of the kind that will be required.

An application was received from G. Venturi for a permit to construct a garage on the alley between Cypress and Linden avenues, south of Grand avenue. The application was denied, because the proposed building was within the fire limits but was not of fireproof construction.

An application was received from Louis Neri for the position of driver of the fire truck when the machine was installed in its permanent quarters at the city hall. As this will still be a matter of more than a month the board decided not to make the appointment at this time, but placed Mr. Neri's application on file.

A number of bills against the city were audited by the finance committee and ordered paid.

GIRLS' TEAM DEFEATS SAN MATEO PLAYERS

In one of the best exhibitions of girls' basketball ever played on the local court, the South San Francisco high school defeated San Mateo high school girls Wednesday in a practice game, the score being 47 to 12. The passing and goal shooting of the local girls deserves praise. Both Bernice Holbrook, captain of the South San Francisco team, and Myrtle Mullen deserve commendation for their accuracy in shooting goals.

Those who played were: Forwards—Bernice Holbrook '21, Myrtle Mullen '22; guards—Bernice Farrell '22, Sarah Doak '22, Marguerite Kiessling '22, Laura Baldini '24; centers—Edna Broner '24, Marian Fischer '24, Lucille Strand '21, Rosalind Gsell '22, Alice Wallace '22; referee, Miss Rue Clifford.

ENTERTAINS EUCHE CLUB.

Mrs. A. P. Scott was hostess to the Euchre Club last Friday. The prizes were won as follows: Mrs. J. O. Snyder, first; Mrs. A. Langenbach, second; Mrs. A. McSweeney, third.

Starting on a Long Flight

A Missouri girl releasing one of the 5,000 homing pigeons entered in a 500-mile race to St. Louis. The birds were trained at the Rexall lofts in St. Louis, the largest in the world.

FREE THEATER TICKETS!

Is there man, woman, or child who does not like to go to the movies? Is there man, woman, or child who does not thrill when Harold Heyboy, the handsome hero, rescues Bertha, the blue-eyed belle of the village, from the clutches of Desperate Dan, the deep-dyed desperado? Here is a chance to go free of charge.

The Enterprise is going to give somebody an opportunity every week during October to go to the Royal Theater and take a friend absolutely free. There are no strings to this offer, you do not have to do anything for this paper, no soliciting, nothing. Here is the proposition: We wish to know how closely our readers follow our advertising, so each week during October there will be one ad printed minus one letter. To the first person appearing at the Enterprise office with this ad clipped out, two tickets to Mr. Eschelbach's theater will be given free. Remember, this will not be so easy as it looks. There will be just one letter missing and it may take diligent search to locate the ad with the missing letter. There is such an ad in today's Enterprise. Try your luck at finding it. Remember, two tickets are yours if you find it and are the first to bring it to this office. Don't telephone us that you have found it, but clip it out and bring it in. Nobody connected with The Enterprise will be allowed to compete, so you will all have an equal chance.

CAR WRECKED BY COLLISION WITH TELEPHONE POLE

Mike Lopez of this city had a narrow escape from death or injury Sunday night when the automobile in which he was driving collided with a telephone pole at the corner of Baden avenue and San Bruno road with such force that the pole was cut half through. Lopez was driving east on Baden at a rapid rate when at the corner he met a truck coming south on San Bruno. There is a sharp turn at this corner, and in trying to avoid a collision with the truck Lopez swung his car too far out and struck the pole. Beyond a few scratches and bruises Lopez escaped uninjured, but his car was wrecked.

AMERICAN LEGION SCORES GREAT SUCCESS WEDNESDAY

The American Legion benefit performance at the Royal Theater Wednesday night scored a success that was very gratifying to those who arranged it, as a large audience attended both shows. The evening's receipts will go to the memorial hall building fund. The committee who had the arrangements for the evening in charge consisted of Maurice Koop, J. Dominy, and Fred Schmidt. This committee as well as other members of McCaffery Post express themselves as grateful to Manager Eschelbach of the theater and to Misses Helen and Mary Carmody, Mrs. Henry Hyland, and Jack Martin, all of whom helped in the musical part of the program.

VIGILANTES NOW!

A vigilantes' committee has been formed in South San Francisco. Four of the most prominent business men in town are its charter members and have already had their baptism of fire, as it were; that is, they have already captured a daring lawbreaker and proven to the community that they are determined all forms of lawlessness shall cease in this city.

The details of the capture are interesting and have brought new confidence to local residents that their homes and firesides are being protected. It came about like this: At near the witching hour last Saturday night Mayor Holston and Ambrose McSweeney drove up before the Holston home on Grand avenue, and as their headlights switched across the back yard in the turning of the machine they saw a skulking form behind the house. Valiantly they sprang out and made for the marauder, who attempted to escape. He was making his way up Grand avenue when A. P. Scott headed him off and the capture was effected, but not before J. O. Snyder had been roused by telephone and arrived on the spot hot-foot, armed with a sawed-off shotgun. Perhaps it was not sawed off, but it should have been to figure in such a drama. The culprit, a slender, youthful Mexican, was found to have a piece of garden hose and admitted it had been taken from the Rafaelli yard. With the help of Nightwatchman McGraw, the vigilantes saw the captive lodged in the city bastille. Monday morning Judge Dowd assessed him $10.

LOCAL CHURCH MAY GET BIG APPROPRIATION FOR BUILDING

Dr. Melvin P. Burns of New York, secretary of the board of missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was in this city on Saturday last. He promised to recommend an appropriation of $25,000 toward the new building planned by St. Paul's M. E. Church.

E. ENDERLIN PURCHASES HOME IN THIS CITY

E. Enderlin, formerly employed on E. N. Brown's ranch, recently purchased a home on Railroad avenue and will move into it this week. Mr. Enderlin will be employed at the Western Meat plant.

FORMER SOUTH S. F. GIRL TO MARRY IN THE SOUTH

Word has reached Mrs. E. C. Peck of the announcement of the engagement of her niece, Miss Mildred Robinson of Los Angeles, to Alfred Lockyear of that city. The wedding will take place the last of October. The young couple will live in Hollywood. Mr. Lockyear took an active part in the war, having gone "over the top" three times.

Miss Robinson lived in this city for two years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peck.

DEMAND INFORMATION ABOUT NEW SCHOOL

Residents of North End of Town Want to Know When School Is to Be Built.

When are they going to get the school for which they helped to vote $9600 special tax last April? That is what the residents in Peck's Lots and the north end of town want to know. In fact, that is what they demand to know. A delegation of residents from this part of South San Francisco waited on the Chamber of Commerce during the Chamber meeting held at the city hall Tuesday night and demanded this information. None of the Chamber members could cast light on the situation, though several theories were advanced. The discussion ended by the secretary being instructed to communicate with the school trustees and request them to attend the next meeting of the Chamber to talk the matter over. The invitation is to be extended also to County Superintendent of Schools Roy Cloud. The members of the delegation from the north end of town were outspoken in their opinion that the securing of the school in question was most important to the welfare of the city, saying that at least two families had already moved away because of the lack of school facilities for their children and that several more were considering the same step.

Several members of the Chamber voiced complaints of poor mail service between this city and San Francisco. The upshot of the discussion that followed was that the secretary was instructed to communicate with Postmaster Charles W. Fay of San Francisco, of which office South San Francisco is a branch, and lay before him the facts in the case, and also to express to Mr. Fay the unanimous opinion of the Chamber members that this office had more satisfactory service when it was an independent office than it has ever had since it became a branch of the San Francisco office.

A committee of five was appointed to interview the business men of town with the object of getting more of them interested in the Chamber of Commerce. Some of the members were outspoken in their opinion of those business men who take no part in the Chamber activities, yet profit as much in a general way from those activities as those who give of their time, energy, and means to keep the organization up. The men appointed on this committee were E. C. Peck, Henry Haaker, B. H. Truax, F. S. Dolley, and F. A. Cunningham.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be held Tuesday evening, October 12th.

BARBER SHOP AND POOLROOM ROBBED

The boldest robbery that has taken place in South San Francisco for a long time was pulled off Wednesday night, when Manuel Monize's barber shop was entered and fourteen razors taken, as well as a large quantity of jewelry from a punchboard. The same night thieves, probably the same person or persons, broke into the California Poolroom, near the Monize shop, and secured $50 in cash.

The robbery at the Monize shop was extremely bold, as the razors were taken from the shelf in the front of the shop under an electric light that burns all night and the robbers were in plain view of the street at all times through the big front windows. An entrance was gained by standing on a large garbage can dragged to the front door, tearing wire netting off the transom and climbing through the transom over the door. All the time the thieves were doing this they were in plain view from up and down the street because of the light burning just inside the door. No money was secured in the barber shop, but $200 left in a locked drawer was missed, although marks on the lock near the drawer showed the marauders had attempted to force it open. The punchboard that was stripped had just been put in and held about $150 worth of watches, safety razors, and other articles. This jewelry was the property of Viette & Thatcher of the Smoke Shop.

DARING HOLDUP ATTEMPTED ON HIGHWAY

BANDIT'S FIRE MANY SHOTS AT MAN AND WOMAN IN FLEEING CAR; CHASE AUTO AT FIFTY MILES ALONG BAY SHORE.

George A. Hensley, prominent business man of San Francisco and member of the Union League Club, together with his secretary, had an exciting escape from auto bandits at a late hour Wednesday night between South San Francisco and the city. Hensley and his secretary escaped unscathed from the flying bullets fired by the bandits, but their car was riddled.

Hensley and the woman had passed through South San Francisco, when just north of town a car in which a number of men were riding drove alongside and attempted to crowd their car into the ditch, at the same time two men tried to jump to its running board. Hensley, suspecting the intentions of the bandits, put on speed, whereupon the others opened fire. The woman screamed, and Hensley put her in the bottom of the car. The robbers then directed their fire at the tires of Hensley's car, but failed to strike them. The chase continued at fifty miles an hour through Visitation Valley and well toward the San Francisco limits before the pursuers finally withdrew. Residents along the road heard the shots and notified the San Francisco police.

Speculation is rife as to whether the bandits may have been the same persons who robbed the Monize barber shop and the California Poolroom in South San Francisco the same night.

JOHN B. SHAW LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW HOME

John B. Shaw of this city has let the contract for a new home on Miller avenue, between Spruce and Magnolia. Peck & Stickle will build the house and have begun laying the foundation.

SMALL BOY GETS ARM BROKEN WHILE AT SCHOOL

Johannie Innocente, a Mexican boy about seven years old, had his right arm broken while playing on the Central grammar school ground Wednesday. The boy was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital, where Dr. Dolley set the bone. According to the story the children told, Johannie was sitting on the side of the steps when one of the other children pushed him off and he fell on his arm.

COMRADES OF BATTLE FRONTS HOLD REUNION IN THE CITY

Artie Mathiesen, William Wedell, and Fred Schmidt attended a banquet given at the Commercial Club in San Francisco Saturday evening. It was a reunion of the 363d Regiment, Mathiesen, Wedell, and Schmidt being former buddies of Company H. Many happenings of two years ago were recalled by all who attended. Once again the battles of St. Mihiel, Argonne, and Flanders fronts were fought. All report having a good time and all declared their intention of meeting again one year hence.

DON FUNGE GETS CONTINUANCE IN NON-SUPPORT ACTION

The case of Don Funge, the Colma cattleman, came up before Judge W. J. Smith Monday, but was continued by request of the attorneys on both sides. Funge is being sued by Mrs. Funge for non-support of his minor children. He was arrested recently in Los Angeles after a search that extended over the entire state.

It is believed two strange youths who visited the Monize shop Wednesday afternoon and seemed to be examining the premises may know something of the robbery, as the two took lunch at the Star Restaurant at about 2 o'clock Thursday morning and have not been seen since. Their identity has not been established.

BONDS SHOULD BE EXCHANGED.

Liberty bond investors of the Twelfth Federal Reserve district, holding approximately $67,000,000 worth of 4 per cent temporary bonds, are suffering an approximate annual loss of $167,000 because they have not presented their temporary bonds for conversion into 4 1/4 per cent permanent bonds, Governor John U. Calkins of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco has estimated. Every effort, Governor Calkins pointed out, has been made to inform investors of their interest in the matter.

Local banks throughout the Twelfth Federal Reserve district, who handle the exchange operations for individual investors free of charge, have spent thousands of dollars in advertising to spur their clients to exchange their temporary bonds for the permanent bonds carrying a higher rate of interest. Despite their efforts and the fact that the Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to terminate the privilege of converting the 4 per cent bonds on six months' public notice, $67,000,000 worth of securities remain unexchanged in this district.

Although the conversion privilege has not been withdrawn by the secretary of the treasury as yet, and six months' public notice of such withdrawal will be given before the privilege will be terminated, to secure the benefit of 4 1/4 per cent from November, 1920, holders of 4 per cent second loan bonds must present them to any bank for conversion in order that the bank in turn may forward the bonds to reach the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco on or before November 14, 1920. Four per cent second loan bonds received by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco November 15, 1920, or on or before May 14, 1921, will be converted, but the increased interest rate of one-quarter of 1 per cent will not become effective until May 15, 1921.

To secure the benefit of 4 1/4 per cent from December 15, 1920, holders of 4 per cent first loan bonds must present them to a bank for conversion in order that the bank may forward them to reach the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco on or before December 14, 1920. Four per cent first loan bonds received by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco December 15, 1920, or on or before June 14, 1921, will be converted, but the increased interest rate of one-quarter of 1 per cent will not become effective until June 15, 1921.

For temporary 4 per cent bonds presented, permanent 4 1/4 per cent bonds will be delivered.

FIGURES SHOW RAILROAD CONDITIONS IMPROVING

Coincident with the restoration of the Sunset Limited and the improvement of other passenger train service, including the operation of through tourist sleepers daily between San Francisco and Washington, D. C., at approximately half the cost of the standard sleeper charge, General Manager J. H. Dyer of the Southern Pacific Company has made public figures which show the marked improvement secured in other lines of operation. For example, during the three months of May, June, and July this year there were loaded 220,842 cars of commercial freight with an average load per car of 25.1 tons, an increase in the average tons per car over the same period of the previous year of 1.4 tons, which means a saving to the public of 13,046 cars, as compared with the 1919 loading. This also exceeded the loading that prevailed in 1918, when a vigorous campaign was conducted to obtain greater car efficiency. During the same three months of 1920 the Southern Pacific managed to achieve an average car mileage of 36.6 miles, as compared with 34.1 recorded for the same period of 1919.

The number of cars in or awaiting shops compared to the total number of cars on the Southern Pacific lines for May, June, and July of 1920 was below 5 per cent, indicating the effective measures that are being taken to provide the public with all the service and equipment possible.

The Southern Pacific is handling a larger gross tonnage this year than ever in its history. During the months of May, June, and July, 1920, the total gross ton miles show 6,058,705,000, an increase over the same months of 1919 of 575,359,000.

Commenting on this showing, John H. Drum, chairman for northern California of the Good Railway Service Association of California, said: "The showing made by the Southern Pacific Company, as indicated by Mr. Dyer's report, is highly gratifying to our organization, which has been working hand in hand with railroad officials and the public to secure good railway service. By continued co-operation between the railroads and their patrons, most of our transportation difficulties, I believe, will be solved. The public will have to be patient a little longer until the railroads are able to secure the vast quantities of equipment ordered and until their earnings under the transportation act become fairly well established. In the meantime, there is optimism over the marked improvement that has been accomplished in so short a time."

SAN BRUNO LOCALS

Master William Webster is now attending high school at San Mateo.

Eugene Tucker, a former resident of Huntington Park, spent last Sunday renewing acquaintances in San Bruno.

Mrs. R. Condon and son, Russell, former residents of San Bruno, are spending a few days at their house in San Bruno Park.

James Christie was so seriously cut about the eye while playing football at high school last Tuesday that several stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holmgren, popular residents of Belle Air Park, have rented the C. V. Olsen residence in Third addition and plan to move there Belle Air Park in the near future.

Mrs. J. J. Ledwith of Belle Air Park spent the week-end in San Jose with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flint accompanied her home and spent a few pleasant hours here before returning home again.

The San Bruno Parent-Teacher Association will give a card party and entertainment and other features on Saturday evening, November 13th, at California Hall. The P. T. A. always gives something worth while, so keep the evening open.

BASEBALL.

Baseball fans, and especially the members of the baseball team of the San Bruno firemen, are requested to read an article under the heading of "Bush Baseball," written by Joe McMullen on page 14 of the San Francisco Bulletin, Tuesday, September 28th. Those who read this article will get an idea of what other teams think of the local team for not showing up to play scheduled games at other grounds.

YEOMEN PLAY WHIST.

A large crowd of whist enthusiasts enjoyed a pleasant evening at the whist party given by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen of San Bruno at Cheetham's Tavern last Tuesday evening. Many prizes were awarded to the successful players, and among the several winners were: E. Daneri, Eugene Daneri, Mrs. Fred Russell, Mrs. M. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. W. Horrocks, Mrs. George Moore. Mrs. W. H. Empey won the door prize.

NOVEL FEATURES PROMISED FOR CENTER CLUB DANCE

The dance committee of the Center Club of San Bruno promises one of the best dances the club has ever given for Saturday evening, October 2d. Something new in the line of decorations, balloons, are to be incorporated in the novel decorations planned for this stellar event. It is rumored that some new fun features are to be introduced during the evening, and every one is requested to wear yama yamas in order that they may be entirely in the "swim." A high class of music from San Francisco is promised for this dance.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL ACTIVITIES.

Preparations are now being made to form two baseball teams at the Edgemont grammar school. One team is to be composed of girls of the seventh and eighth grades and the other is to be composed of boys of the same grades. Games have been scheduled with the Hillsborough grammar school teams, which are composed in a like manner.

COURSING MEET.

Last Sunday's coursing meet was very successful. All "dope" was again upset when De Valera won the Ladies' Day champion stake. Chief Multnomah, winner of last Sunday's puppy stake, fought it with the winner in the final course. Mission Tip Toe, James Rolph Jr.'s dog, won the open stake in handy fashion. Skookum defeated Sweet Marie in the first round, Skyball defeated Suisun, Letorin Lass defeated Sitkum, Chief Multnomah defeated Steam Belle, Lady Jordan defeated Good Rule, De Valera defeated Steam Roller. Second round—Chief Multnomah defeated Skookum, Skyball defeated Lady Jordan, De Valera defeated Letorin Lass. Third round—Chief Multnomah defeated Skyball, and De Valera, who drew a bye, defeated Chief Multnomah in the final course.

Open stake—Oakland By Pass defeated My Lily, Mission Tip Toe defeated Honor M., My Rose defeated Golden State, Smoky Wild Bill defeated Midnight, Ukiah defeated Oakland Harvest, Oakland Fretter defeated Blanche. Second course—Mission Tip Toe defeated Oakland By Pass, My Rose defeated Smoky Wild Bill, Oakland Fretter defeated Ukiah. Third round—Mission Tip Toe defeated My Rose, Oakland Fretter drew a bye and was defeated in the final course by Mission Tip Toe.

P.T. HOLDS FIRST MEETING.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Lomita Park held its first meeting of the new school year at the Lomita Park grammar school last Friday afternoon. Much interest was evidenced by the fine attendance. Many new plans for the new year were discussed.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT WHIST.

Mrs. D. Beaton of Belle Air Park entertained Mrs. W. Titcombe, Mrs. E. Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. A. Holmgren at her home during the past week. The evening was spent playing whist and other games. The pleasant evening was well rounded out by the serving of refreshments. The party was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Holmgren, who are moving from Belle Air Park in the near future.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME Disease Prevention

Through its Health Service the American Red Cross has begun a nation wide concentrated effort in co-operation with established organizations to reduce greatly the amount of preventable disease and physical defects found among the country's 106,000,000 population. Education is its most powerful tool. Special attention is devoted to children, and this picture shows a typical Red Cross welfare clinic where little ones are treated and mothers instructed in the proper care of them.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME Aiding Poland

But for the work of American Red Cross agents in all regions of Poland during the last twelve months, hundreds of thousands of people in that tragic country today would be under the sod, victims of hunger, disease and exposure. The job in Poland is one of tremendous proportions and cannot be abandoned for many months to come. Here is a typical scene: A Red Cross worker "at the throttle" of a soup kitchen where hundreds of undernourished women and children are fed daily.

COLMA LOCALS

The Deller family, who had been at Santa Cruz, returned to their home during the week.

Jean P. Mandot, the popular dairyman, is occupying the Coturri home on Hill street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heinze Jr. are occupying the Armanino flats above the postoffice building.

Mrs. C. G. Compton of Portland, Ore., has been visiting with her cousin, Mrs. William Doyle.

Miss Mayme Doyle, who has been on a two weeks' vacation, returned to her work in San Francisco Monday.

Jack Dennis, who went to Los Angeles to enter some of the prize race dogs in the movies, returned Monday.

Louis Spani, very well known throughout Colma and Daly City, left during the week on a business trip to Los Angeles.

The Colma Improvement Club is preparing for a whist party, to be held on Thursday evening, October 7th, at the old Jefferson Hall.

A large crowd attended the whist party given by the sodality children for the benefit of Holy Angels' parish on Wednesday evening last.

Miss Catherine Capurro, who has been spending the past three months with Miss Angelina Olcese, returned to her home in San Francisco Tuesday.

Peter Martinelli, a graduate of the Jefferson school, who returned from a two months' visit with relatives at Oakland, is attending Heald's Business College.

Miss Libera Boetto, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Boetto, is taking ukulele lessons from a proficient Hawaiian music teacher in San Francisco.

About forty guests enjoyed an afternoon tea given to Mrs. James Henderson at the home of Mrs. Charles Stewart in San Francisco on Monday last.

The dance given by the Players' Club at South San Francisco on Saturday night last, was an enjoyable affair, attended by many of the younger folks from Colma and Daly City.

George Volkman, who has been employed for the past three years by Louis Nava, the popular butcher, resigned his position and is being employed by Andy Klepen, the local butcher at Ocean View.

Mrs. W. C. Sheldon, one of the main directors of the Girls' Club of Colma, returned to her home in San Francisco, after spending a most enjoyable two weeks' vacation with her son and daughters, who reside at Victoria, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugenio Rosaia and youngest daughter, Miss Elvira, who have been on a three months' visit with relatives in Seattle, Wash., returned to their Palo Alto home on Thursday last. Miss Rosaia is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. C.

Bertini.

Silvio Olcese graduated from a two years' course at Heald's Business College in San Francisco Friday. Young Olcese is attending a private business school, where he will complete his education by taking an expert accounting course.

William Ottoboni, Henry Blecher, William Doyle, Chester Pratt, Edwin Ver-Linden, John Olcese and many others from this end attended the banquet given by the 363d Infantry Association at the Commercial Club on Saturday night last.

Joseph Schenone, retired rancher of Colma, his son Raymond, "Till" Arata, Nick Castiglio, and Louis Ponti of San Francisco left recently for an automobile trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno, Nev. They will be gone for several weeks.

MANY AT REUNION.

Colma and South San Francisco were well represented at the reunion of the Ninety-first Division, held at Idora Park on Sunday last. It was a sociable gathering of a very large attendance of friends and relatives of the members.

MRS. W. L. DOYLE SURPRISED ON HER BIRTHDAY

On Wednesday evening last Mrs. William L. Doyle was tendered a birthday surprise party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mercks, at 127 Juniper avenue, South San Francisco. Mrs. Doyle was the recipient of many beautiful and dainty gifts. The evening was pleasantly spent with music, singing and games, followed by light refreshments, which were enjoyed by close friends and relatives.

Bold Strategy.

"The next move," remarked Mr. Quickrich, "is to invite the police in to investigate our new scheme." "Aren't you afraid they'll find out the way the trick is done?" "We'll have to take a chance on that. In the meantime we need the publicity."—Washington Star.

Resting.

"What town is this?" "Plunkville." "Where is your weather bureau?" "He's sitting over on the grocery porch talking politics."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ante-Effort.

"Ethelbert, I have no use for that young Blithers; he yawned three times while I was talking to him." "He wasn't yawning, my dear; he was merely trying to say something."—Town Topics.

Same as to Cities.

"In what direction does the village lie, my friend?" "Well, sir, it's liable to lie in any old direction that comes handy, but at this time of the year it's mostly about fish."—Silverton (Colo.) Miner.

Absolutely.

Uncle—Only fools are certain, Tommy; wise men hesitate. Tommy—Are you sure, uncle. Uncle—Yes, my boy; certain of it.—Boys' Life.

Prices, we are told, are still coming down. With the use of smoked glasses they should soon be in sight.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT.

"Too bad that old maid can not get a husband," remarked a Smart Aleck of a very charming maiden lady the other day. But the "old maid" is fortunate in at least one respect—she hasn't a Smart Aleck for a husband. She is not an upstart's slave, and she doesn't have to stand the abuse of one who doesn't know how to respect his own mother's sex. She may be an "old maid" in point of years, but she is honored and respected, and decent people do not turn from her in disgust when she makes a remark about other people.

An "old maid" without a husband?

Possibly so.

But of infinitely more value to the world than a Smart Aleck.

O O O O

"That fellow is a hustler!"

We might say that of many of our enterprising citizens. They deserve it, and more.

But in the background perhaps there is one to whom even more credit is due—the true and loyal wife, who supplies the inspiration that urges men on to greater and better deeds.

A cheerful and loving home brings to the surface the best that is in any man. Its pure and ennobling influence gingers him up and fills him with the pep of conquest. It stimulates the red blood of manhood that makes it possible to avoid the pitfalls and surmount the obstacles of the business world.

"That fellow is a hustler"—yes—but with a wife who inspires the spark and fans the flames of hustledom.

O O O O

"Mama's Boy" is a term youngsters apply to other boys who refuse to take part in rough and vulgar plays.

"Mama's boy"—meaning that he is being well trained by a good mother who is ever mindful of the future welfare of her son. It means that he is growing up a clean-minded boy, with a high regard for the truth and the decencies of life. It means that he is from day to day developing into the type of man that elevates humanity and makes nations great. Mama's boy? Surely! Give us millions of 'em.

O O O O

Take an hour off from business cares. Center your mind on the very best and most practical method of improving and developing this town. Then tell us. Your views may well deserve publication. You may even solve the problem. Do it!

A BETTER WAY.

The government spends much money in printing bulletins that are circulated for the purpose of improving industrial conditions. It is one of the things which have contributed to the making of a great country.

These bulletins are sent to the people who apply for them, and possibly to some who do not. Just how extensively they are circulated in this matter we do not know, but it is doubtful if the valuable information they disseminate reaches the majority of the people for whom it is intended, especially in the field of agriculture.

We believe a more satisfactory and profitable means of stimulating more advanced methods in the various lines of industry would be to publish the bulletins in the newspapers and periodicals that reach most generally the people concerned.

Take the farmer as an example.

Practically every one raises corn, wheat, oats, rye, potatoes, hay, etc. Bulletins on such crops should be printed in the country papers. These papers reach practically every farmer in the country, and would be the logical ones to use.

Bulletins on special subjects, such as bee culture, poultry raising on an extensive scale, etc., could be printed in either the country press or journals specializing in such matters.

The same would be true in all lines of industry, science, manufactures, etc., a reasonable price being paid for such advertising.

In no other way could the public be reached so quickly and effectively, and unquestionably the results would more than justify the expenditure.

Sooner or later the government will discard its present ancient method of disseminating valuable information and adopt the one more fitted for the progressive age in which we move.

Sooner is better than later.

FINANCIAL SPEEDERS.

The speeder at the wheel of an automobile is considered a menace to society, and is justly curbed by law. The financial speeder is even a greater menace, and yet he appears to be immune.

The dastardly bomb outrage in New York is undoubtedly due mainly to bitterness against these financial speeders—a small percentage of the population who have accumulated most of the wealth of the country within a comparatively few years, leaving the remainder to be divided among a hundred million people.

These men have accumulated so much of the wealth of the country that they could produce a disastrous panic and plunge the country into a most appalling state of confusion by the stroke of a pen. The fact that they refrained from such action does not lessen their danger in the least. Their great wealth is drawn from all classes of people. In every walk of life, in every article we buy, we pay tribute to some one or other of these speeders.

Such tremendous fortunes are dangerous in a republic—firebrands in the midst of tinder. They create too great a gulf between the elements of humanity, and are a potent factor in fostering class hatreds which only too often lead to acts of violence.

If the wealth of the country continues to gravitate toward a limited few the time may come when we will return to the days of feudalism, when the "lords of the land" will be above the law and so powerful through means of their gold that even the government would find itself impotent when in opposition to their will.

There apparently is but one remedy which offers practical results in curing the ills which now afflict us. That is for congress to place a reasonable limit upon individual or family fortunes. The man who can not live on five million dollars is too expensive a luxury for a democratic country. He should move on.

In the meantime, hang every one connected with the New York outrage, even if the law has to be stretched as much as the rope in order to do it.

Men who are loyal to the flag of this country will not quibble over minor details.

Greater than the honor of being president, is to be known as the man who put him there.

A dealer in Bloomington, Ill., was so worried over his inability to secure coal for his customers that he committed suicide. That, however, may not be so bad. It saves him the annoyance of freezing to death later on.

Judging from the contents of some daily newspapers, it would be better if they were sent out to their subscribers before being printed. They would be more elevating in their effect upon humanity, and of some practical value.

Our sincere regrets to dear old Mexico. We plumb forgot to chronicle the fact that General Obregon was duly and properly elected president a few weeks ago and is still above ground.

No, Algernon, it is not necessary to apologize for wearing your straw hat into the closed season. It was inconsiderate of the season to close.

Now that they have attained the eminence of political sovereignty, will the ladies remove their hats in the presence of gentlemen?

Things are beginning to look just a little shaky for us rich bloods. But we'll let the clerks and the messengers do the worrying.

NOTICE OF FILING LIST OF UNPAID ASSESSMENTS.

No. 39.

Notice is hereby given that on the 23rd day of September, 1920, George A. Kneese, Superintendent of Streets and the City of South San Francisco, filed with me a complete list of the assessments unpaid on account of the contract awarded on the 18th day of November, 1919, for the improvement of that portion of Swift Avenue from a line drawn at right angles to the center line of said Swift Avenue at a point Three Thousand Seven Hundred Ninety (3790) feet easterly along the center line of Swift Avenue from the intersection of the center line of Grand Avenue with the center line of Swift Avenue to the easterly termination of said Swift Avenue, under and pursuant to the provisions of the "Improvement Act of 1911," and the amendments thereto, and the resolutions, notices and other proceedings of said City, duly adopted and taken, reference to resolution of intention No. 39, passed on the 6th day of October, 1919, being hereby expressly made for a description of the work and the district therein mentioned, which resolution of intention, together with all subsequent resolutions, notices and warrant relating to said proceedings, contained a declaration as follows:

"Notice is hereby given that seal bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of Seven (7) per cent per annum will be issued hereunder in the manner specified in the "Improvement Bond Act of 1915," and the amendments thereto, the last installment of which bonds shall mature Nine (9) years from the 2nd day of July, next succeeding Nine (9) months from their date."

Interested persons are hereby notified that they may appear before the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco at the regular meeting of said Board to be held on Monday the 4th day of October, 1920, at the hour of eight o'clock p. m., and show cause why bonds should not be issued upon the security of the unpaid assessments as shown on said list, that being the time fixed by me for such purpose.

Dated September 23rd, 1920.
DANIEL McSWEENEY,
City Clerk.

Dispatches from France state that the government has limited the price of American hard coal to $32 a ton. But what gets our nanny is the fact that France can get our hard coal when we in America can not.

We suspect that some of our brother editors are sizing up the future possibilities of running for public office. They are saying some mighty nice things about the ladies.

This is to certify that W. M. Robertson and A. R. Brady had commenced doing business at the date hereof in the City of Daly City, County of San Mateo, State of California, and intend to continue doing business in said Daly City under the name and style of "Crocker Repair Shop."

PRACTICAL RECIPES

To many people fruit butter means apple butter and nothing else; but good as well-made apple butter is, that made from pears and peaches is equally good, and a supply made from different fruits will add variety to the preserve shelf.

The following recipes for various kinds of fruit butters have been tested in the laboratories of the United States Department of Agriculture, and are recommended as delicious and wholesome.

Apple Butter With Cider

The peeled and sliced apples may be cooked in the boiled cider to make the butter in one operation or they may be made first into apple sauce, which is then cooked in the boiled cider. With apples of coarse texture the later method is no doubt preferable; otherwise the method to be used is one of personal choice, as both make equally good butter. The cooking should be continued until the cider and apples do not separate, and the butter, when cold, will be as thick as good apple sauce. The thickness is determined at frequent intervals by cooling small portions.

It usually takes about equal quantities of sweet cider and peeled and sliced apples to make butter of the right consistency. In other words, five gallons of sweet cider should be boiled down to two and one-half gallons, and five gallons of peeled and sliced apples should be added to it either uncooked or as apple sauce.

Two of the essentials of making good apple butter are long, slow cooking (four to five hours) and constant stirring. If sugar is used, it should be added after the cooking of cider and apples is about two-thirds done. About a pound of either white or brown sugar is the usual proportion per gallon of apple butter, but more or less (or not any) may be used, to suit the taste. Apple butter is spiced according to taste, about half a teaspoon each of ground cinnamon, cloves, and allspice being used for each gallon. These are stirred into it when the cooking is finished.

While still boiling hot, apple butter should be packed into hot sterilized glasses, glass jars, or hermetically sealed stone jars, with tightly fitting covers, and processed in a steamer, if it is to be kept for some weeks or months.

Apple Butter With Grape Juice

If a grape flavor is desired in apple butter it may be obtained by the use of grape juice. To each gallon of peeled and sliced apples, cooked into sauce and strained, one pint of grape juice, one cup of brown sugar, and one-quarter of a teaspoon of salt should be added. These should cook slowly and be stirred often for two hours or until of the desired thickness, then stir in one teaspoon of cinnamon and pack hot in hot containers and sterilize.

Pear Butter

The pears should be ripe enough to cook up well. After being peeled they are cored and sliced, put in a preserving kettle with a little water, and then cooked slowly until soft. The sugar is then added, one cup to one quart of sliced pears, and cooking is continued very slowly, with frequent stirring, for one and a half to two hours. The butter should then be smooth and of the consistency of thick apple sauce. A little lemon juice, with ginger, cinnamon, or other spices to taste, should be well stirred into the hot butter. Pack while hot in steam scalded containers and process with steam.

Peach Butter

Put the peaches in a wire basket and dip them in boiling water a few seconds until the skin slips—test by raising the fruit out of the water and rubbing the skin between the fingers. Dip the peaches into cold water, peel, and pit them. Well-ripened freestone varieties are best. Mash the pulp, and cook it in its own juice without adding water. If it is rather coarse, put it through a colander or coarse wire sieve to make a butter of fine texture. To each measure of pulp add a half measure of sugar, cook slowly, and stir frequently until the product is of the desired thickness. The meats of

Two Coats and a Hat

IF ANYTHING can reconcile a summer-loving world to the coming of autumn and winter, the coats and hats with which we are to face the cold ought to qualify. There is nothing in their makeup to even suggest depression and everything that speaks of comfort and brilliance is theirs. They are here before the autumn leaves and will still be here when the leaves are gone, adding as much to the glory of the year as lies in the power of human beings to contribute. The coats are made of materials that are soft, thick, in textures that reveal the richness of quiet colors.

Long lines tapering in toward the bottom are chosen for many coats. Very ample collars in the cape, muffler and shawl varieties make them look equal to protecting one against the most frigid weather and altogether the new models are very graceful.

One of these long, cozy coats appears at the left of the two shown in the picture. It is shaped to hang in toward the bottom and has a group of plaits down the middle of the back, accented by rows of large covered buttons at each side. There is a very ample cape collar and equally generous sleeves with deep cuffs.

A shorter coat in a lighter color appears at the right. Its distinguishing feature is the oddity of its construction. Whoever is looking for something new will find it here for the designer appears to have centered his attention on originality and to have a passion for difficult workmanship. Very fine tailoring is evident in the wide folds across the back bordered by narrow tucks. The sleeves abide by the mode in being full and present cuffs lengthened to the elbow at the back and finished with cloth-covered buttons. Another surprise waits in two slit pockets at each side that find place in an unlooked-for drape. Finally the coat ends its eccentric career at the knees, being considerably shorter than the average.

The round hat has a duvetine crown and a puff of brocaded ribbon about the face. A band of plain, narrow ribbon, with small beads set at intervals about it, finishes the band and there are small appliqued motifs of the narrow ribbon set on the brocade.

several pits may be cooked either whole or sliced in each gallon of butter. While still hot pack in scalded jars or glasses with tight-fitting tops and process, or cover with hot paraffin.

BRINE SURPLUS VEGETABLES.

One of the oldest methods of preserving food is by salting it. When the rush of late summer work finds the housekeeper with more garden products on hand than she can can or dry, brining is the solution of her difficulties.

All that is necessary for brining is a crock or bucket, a brine made of two pounds of salt to one gallon of water, a cloth and plate or board, and a heavy weight, all of which should be well scalded. For best results vegetables should be blanched in hot water or live steam before brining. For some vegetables a weaker brine will do. With string beans and a few other vegetables, a weaker brine with a little vinegar added will give satisfactory results.

Dainty Ribbon Garters

Ribbons and laces that set off the faces of fair women, do not end their usefulness in this way. Here they appear in Christmas garters of a daintiness and beauty that will bring joy to the recipient. Ribbon, shirred over flat elastic and ornamented with tiny chiffon roses, makes the pair shown with wide flounce of lace falling from one edge of them. The garters at the right are made of wide satin ribbon shirred over flat elastic, with narrow frills of val lace set on them and finished with rosettes made of the same ribbon. Each rosette has a bow of narrower ribbon at the center and three little blossoms of the narrow ribbon perched at the edge. The rosettes and flowers are shown separately.

Didn't Want to Waste 'Em.

The fishing season is on. A business man was reminded of it by a small son who called him on the phone and asked:

"Daddy, will you bring home some gold fish?"

"Why?" the man asked.

"Well," answered the boy, "I've got a couple of worms and don't know what to do with them."—Worcester Evening Post.

In the Chair.

I felt his soft breath on my cheek
And the gentle touch of his hand—
His very presence near me
Seemed a breeze on a desert sand.

He deftly sought my lips,
My head he did enfold.

Then he broke the silence with,
"Shall the filling be silver or gold?"

—Iowa Frivol.

Balanced.

"Pardon me for referring to it, sir," said the profiteering plutocrat's head accountant, "but your surplus is growing at a really disgraceful rate."

"Yes," replied his employer, "but in a short time my wife's bills for the current month for goods purchased from other profiteers will come in, and when I have paid them my board will be reduced to respectable proportions."—Kansas City Star.

"Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven"

Inside the great brass statue of Moloch a roaring fire was built on holy days.

And into the seething arms of the pitiless god mothers hurled their screaming infants.

In the South Sea Islands, when either parent died, the children were slain and buried also, to wait the parent in the other world.

In China the girl babies were drowned; in Greece they were exposed upon the bleak and bitter mountainsides.

And even Socrates, the greatest of the Greeks, saw nothing in the practice to condemn.

Thus the ancient heathen world treated its babies.

Who was it that changed the world's thought about children? Who made them the most important citizens of the world?

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

He gave them the proud privilege of being His friends.

In every age His Church has been the champion of childhood. Dathus, a Christian Bishop, founded the first orphan asylum. All the laws for the protection of children have their roots and their security in His Church.

This Sign Tells Its Own Story

IF YOU WANT BEER AND WINE

CANDIDATE COX, THE UNDIGNIFIED

By E. S. VAN ZILE

From the time of George Washington to the present moment it has been characteristic of the American people to demand dignity as an absolutely essential quality in the make-up of a President. The instances have been so rare in which an occupant of the White House has forgotten the obligation he is under to the nation to maintain his poise under all circumstances that it requires close historical investigation to come upon them. Our Presidents have been, no matter what may have been their shortcomings as executives, worthy in their outward bearing of the eminence to which they had attained.

It is a serious handicap to James M. Cox that he has displayed, in his Presidential campaign, a lack of dignity that has been, in some of its manifestations, actually shocking. It is not demanded, of course, that a Presidential candidate shall go about his campaign activities with a book of etiquette in one hand and a box of sedative pills in the other. The American public, with its usual sense of justice, makes due allowance always, when judging the words and deeds of an aspirant for the Presidency, for the great physical and mental strain that he is undergoing. But there is a point beyond which its patience and sympathy may safely be tried, and Governor Cox has repeatedly passed that limit.

Of course, it may be too much to expect that a candidate who owes his nomination to the fact that he was the only one of many aspirants who was thoroughly a persona grata to men like Murphy, Nugent, Taggart and Brennan should possess that sensitiveness to the proprieties that has safeguarded the dignity of our Presidents as a class. But even after making due allowance for the fact that a man's manners are influenced by the company he keeps, it is not too much to say that Governor Cox, in his recent public utterances and in certain cheap appeals he has made to people lacking in good taste, has placed himself outside the pale from which alone an occupant of the White House should be chosen.

As President there is every reason to believe that the undignified Cox would offend against a precious tradition that is, as it should be, dear to the hearts of the American people.

COX KNOCKED LIVE HORNET'S NEST ON OWN PARTY'S HEAD

Charge Regarding Campaign Funds Flares Back and Singes Democrats.

THEY WANTED TEN MILLION.

People Willing to Contribute to Get Rid of Democrats, but Not to Keep Them in Power.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.

"God in everything," sang the poet. And this does not even exclude the campaign speeches of Governor Cox.

As a result of Mr. Cox's allegations of a big Republican Campaign Corruption Fund, certain definite facts have been demonstrated by the sworn testimony of the leaders of Governor Cox's own party. They may be summarized as follows:

It has been demonstrated that whereas, in their most sanguine moods, the Republican managers never contemplated a campaign fund of more than $4,000,000, the Democratic party, at an expense of one-half million dollars, set up the machinery for the collection of a campaign fund of $10,000,000.

It has been demonstrated that the contemplated $10,000,000 fund of the Democrats did not materialize for the sole reason that there aren't a sufficient number of plain people in the United States who want a continuance of Democratic rule, to contribute even one-tenth of $10,000,000.

It has been demonstrated that whereas, the great body of the people—literally thousands of them—have willingly contributed from 50 cents to $1,000 to be rid of the present Democratic administration, and to defeat Governor Cox; on the other hand not thousands and not even hundreds are willing to contribute 5 cents toward a continuance of Wilsonism.

What Records Show.

It has been shown by sworn records that, whereas, in despite of Mr. Cox's outraged feelings over the disposition of thousands of ordinary American citizens to help pay the expenses of defeating him in his campaign for the presidency, Mr. Cox in 1914 viewed with complacency the criminal efforts of his campaign managers in Ohio to extort from the Civil Service employees of the state contributions intended to further his personal political fortunes. It has been shown by the testimony of Mr. Cox's own campaign managers that the $4,000,000 which the Republican managers hope to raise for all political purposes this year is not more than can legitimately be expended for this purpose, and that these frank Democratic managers would also like to have a similar amount, but don't see any way of getting it.

It has been shown that the common, ordinary rank and file of the American people, for the first time in American politics, are ready to contribute out of their own pockets to defeat a candidacy which represents all that is repugnant and hostile to American institutions, and that this willingness of the American people to contribute to the expense of defeating the Democracy is the sole basis of Governor Cox's charge of a conspiracy to buy the government of the United States. Incidentally it required the candidacy of Governor Cox to introduce into a national campaign the doctrine that it is possible for the people of the United States to buy their own government, unless Mr. Cox unconsciously means to convey the idea that in this campaign the people are to buy back their government from the autocracy which has seized it and refuses to let go.

Finally it has been conclusively demonstrated that if the Democratic party is to secure any money to waste in a vain effort to achieve a Democratic victory that money must come exclusively from men of the Colonel Deeds' type and the Dayton aircraft Plunderbund, and from the Wall street international financiers, who alone will profit through the participation of the United States in Wilson's League of Nations.

All of these conclusions have been demonstrated by sworn testimony before the Senate Committee with a mathematical precision which would have met the enthusiastic approbation of the late Mr. Euclid. Governor Cox's great expose has petered out. It was a false alarm.

Let's get back to the issues of the campaign.

NOTIZIE DALLA CONTEA IN ITALIANO.

LA PROSSIMA GITA CAMPESTRE DELL'ITALIAN-AMERICAN CITIZENS' CLUB

Allo scopo di riunire in ricreazione la colonia italiana di South San Francisco il Club dei Cittadini Italo-Americani ha organizzato, più che una gita campestre, un grande "Picnic" che verrà dato domenica prossima 3 ottobre al Lovchen Gardens di Colma.

Dato il posto scelto ove non manca niente alla bisogna, si prevede un grande concorso ed il comitato in carica ha già provveduto dettagliatamente per rendere la gita il più piacevole possibile.

Tutti sanno quanto sia attraente il Lovchen Gardens e quanto vasta e ben tenuta sia la sua sala da ballo e per conseguenza gli amanti del ballo verranno a frotte senza tema di non avere l'opportunità di ballare. C'è posto per tutti e perciò il comitato invita la colonia intera, a venire alla bella ricreazione.

Venite con le vostre famiglie, portate i vostri bambini e le vostre ragazze e date a quest'ultima l'opportunità di fare qualche balletto con i giovanotti che non mancheranno, ne siamo sicuri.

Oltre al ballo che durerà fino alle ore 6 p. m. vi saranno diversi altri giochi divertenti, fra i quali la "Ruota della Fortuna" con vistosi premi ed il giuoco della palla (bowling alley).

Vi saranno anche i discorsi e all'uopo sono stati accaparrati valenti oratori come l'egregio Sig. Guglielmo Torchia, il solerte segretario della Federazione delle Società Italiane e proprietario dell'Agenzia di Navigazione Torchia non che "Manager" del giornale "La Voce del Popolo" di San Francisco. Un altro oratore sarà il Sig. W. T. Snow, agente di assicurazione molto popolare fra gli italiani e conosciuto in tutto il South San Francisco. Egli sa parlare fluentemente la nostra lingua e si è prefisso di fare il suo discorso in italiano. Ambedue gli oratori si sono gentilmente offerti e data la loro valentia oratoria, il pubblico li onorerà prestando attenzione al loro dire.

Al Lovchen Gardens ci si reca con il San Mateo "car" fermandosi alla stazione di Colma da dove un apposito autocarro porterà i gitanti al parco.

Il comitato è composto dai seguenti signori. Presidente della festa sarà il nostro rappresentante al consiglio municipale Sig. Enrico Scampini, C. Santini, V. Boido, C. Rostoni, G. Milani, P. Menicucci, G. Beltrami, G. Tacchi, E. Rossetti, E. Eserini, G. Fontana.

Data la lunga convalescenza del presidente del club Sig. E. Minucciani non sappiamo ancora se egli potrà onorarci con la sua presenza. Ad ogni modo è stato prefisso che lui ed il Sig. C. Guidi, vice-presidente, coadiuveranno il presidente del giorno.

Per il Comitato.

I RESIDENTI NORDICI CHIEDONO UNA NUOVA SCUOLA

Una delegazione di residenti del Peck's Lots e della parte Nordica del paese atterrerà alla riunione della Camera di Commercio al city hall Martedì sera per sapere se fosse stato possibile fabbricare la nuova scuola per la quale i cittadini di South San Francisco votarono $9600, lo scorso Aprile.

Non potendo nessuno alla riunione spiegare ciò il Segretario fu incaricato di scrivere ai trustees della scuola per chiedere loro di attendere alla riunione della Camera quest'altra volta.

L'invito fu pure esteso a Roy Cloud, soprintendente delle scuole.

Lagnanze furono ricevute riguardo il povero servizio postale fra San Francisco e questa città ed il segretario fu incaricato di scrivere al Capo Posta Chas. W. Fay in San Francisco e chiedere che qualcosa sia fatto per rimediare questa condizione.

Un comitato di cinque fu appunto per rivedere i commercianti della città con l'obiettivo di farne entrare altri di essi nella Camera di Commercio.

La Camera si riunirà di nuovo Martedì sera, Ottobre 12.

Se l'Ocean Shore Railroad non resserà le operazioni G. Patroni di Princeton annunzia che lui estenderà la sua diga a quel paese ad arrangiare per un servizio a vapore pure costa.

I TRUSTEE DELLA CITTÀ APRONO LE OFFERTE PER L'ARRANGIAMENTO DEL CITY HALL

All'adunanza dei Trustee tenuta Lunedì sera offerte furono date per il lavoro elettrico del city hall.

Vi furono tre offerte, ma essendo l'ammontare sopra la somma che i trustees aspettavano essere, il contratto non fu dato ad alcuno.

La più bassa offerta fu data da Roberts Manufacturing Co. di San Francisco per un'ammontare di $2120.

La cessione del contratto fu rimandata a quest'altro Lunedì.

Le coltrine per le finestre del city hall furono pure considerate. S. Nieri, dimostro' campioni e prezzi. Cinquanta quattro coltrine saranno necessarie del prezzo variante da $291 a $338.50. Questo fu pure rimandato a Lunedì sera.

Un'applicazione fu ricevuta dal Signor G. Venturi per il permesso di erigere un garage nel contradino fra Cypress e Linden avenues. Non essendo il piano a prova di fuoco il permesso fu negato.

Un applicazione fu ricevuta da Louis Nieri per la posizione di guidatore del fire truck quando questo sia nel city hall. Essendo questo ancora unnecessary per un mese o più nessuna azione fu presa.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

A HISTORY

This city began to feel the effects of the general business depression prevalent throughout the country in 1893.

Building, which had been very active, was checked, and before the end of the year had almost ceased—a condition that continued for four years.

The four years of financial depression and industrial stagnation beginning in 1892 wrecked many fine fortunes and halted many great undertakings, and put a stop for the time being to the development of South San Francisco as an industrial center. The work of the Land and Improvement Company was well under way on a big, comprehensive, practical plan, and the first unit had been completed for a great deep-water inner harbor at San Bruno Point, but when the crash came the financial collapse was so tremendous and so widespread that the multi-millionaire proprietors of South San Francisco began at once to haul in sail, and all work at the water front and on the streets stopped. The packing house of the Western Meat Company was the only place where there was anything doing, and that lone industry was the single and sole support of South San Francisco.

Old-established industries were everywhere cutting expenses by cutting wages and cutting working forces. No one was daring enough to even consider starting any new enterprise. Any chance for immediate industrial development in the new city seemed absolutely hopeless. The financial magnates were themselves in dire distress, striving and straining to save their old-established industries from total wreckage.

The conditions were truly desperate, and the outlook would have deterred any one other than the general agent of the Land and Improvement Company from making any effort whatever to bring new industries to the new city; but, fortunately for this city, W. J. Martin did not flinch in the face of the storm and would not and did not give up his fight, and whether it was through faith in the future, abounding energy, dauntless courage, or pure personal stubborn persistence, or all in one, the fact is that he kept right on with his fight to bring new industries to South San Francisco.

Mr. Martin realized the impossibility of inducing Eastern capital to start anything, here or elsewhere, so he began to look around near home. During a former residence at San Jose, Mr. Martin had come to know the Steiger brothers, Lewis and George, proprietors of pottery works at San Jose. Some time about the first of the year of 1894, the Steiger pottery was damaged by fire, whereupon Mr. Martin took the first train for San Jose. When he took up with the Steigers a proposal to take their pottery business to South San Francisco, he found they were disposed to consider his offer favorably. The result was that the Steigers came to South San Francisco, and, after a very careful investigation, were so favorably impressed by the advantages this city offered for their business, that they selected a site immediately east of the Western Meat Company's plant, upon which they at once proceeded to erect the Steiger Terra Cotta and Pottery Works. The buildings and kilns were completed and the works were in active operation before the end of 1894.

The pottery was the first industrial gain made by this city. It was a first-class industry, important also as the maker on a large scale of material required in the building trades, and was gained in the very darkest year of a time of financial and industrial stagnation. It was enlarged from time to time and continued to do a large business up to the time it was destroyed by fire in 1915.

The beneficial effect of Mr. Martin's signal achievement upon the destinies of the infant city was beyond measure. It added materially to the city's permanent population; increased the industrial payroll; enlarged all local business, and greatly strengthened the faith of investors in the city's future.

MAKING WAR ON DISEASE MENACE

American Red Cross Announces Budget of $48,200,000 For Current Year.

NEW DISASTER RELIEF PLAN

Continuance of Heavy Work Abroad Deemed Necessary to Protect United States—$21,000,000 Less Than Last Year.

A program of relief and service toward which appropriations of $48,200,000 have been made has been outlined for the American Red Cross for the fiscal year, July 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921, according to official announcement by national headquarters of the organization at Washington. The figures for 1920-21 are $21,000,000 below those of 1919-20, in which $69,400,000 was spent.

Important among the items of the budget for the present year is the appropriation of $31,500,000 for relief in foreign lands, which includes $11,000,000 in purchased supplies on hand and not distributed.

Must Protect United States.

This will enable the American Red Cross to continue its humanitarian effort to aid stricken peoples to re-establish themselves, to fight the disease epidemics which threaten many countries and to efface largely the remaining traces of the blight left by the World War. It is regarded as social as well as physical sanitation on a large scale that will have a direct bearing on future conditions in America.

Central Europe, the chief sufferer from the conflict, today is facing another winter of famine, pestilence and ruin. Typhus decreased much during the summer months where last winter it had its greatest stronghold, but physicians who investigated the situation at the behest of the League of Red Cross Societies have given their unqualified opinion that this coming winter will see a recurrence on an unprecedented scale. The Red Cross feels it must continue preventive measures abroad to keep this and other deadly maladies from the United States.

Millions for Work at Home.

When the disease was sweeping Central Europe last winter the American Red Cross, with the aid of the governments of afflicted nations, undertook the fight against it. Hospitals were established wherever possible and food and clothing were distributed to the undernourished populations, who by reason of their undernourishment were easy prey to the epidemics. Where disorganization contributed last year to the great inroads made by the disease, by virtue of its knowledge of the disease and the presence of well established hospital centers, the American Red Cross this year will undertake the work with a new confidence.

Including the total of $11,000,000 in supplies left from the last fiscal year, the $31,500,000 is $21,000,000 less than the expenditures for 1919-20.

Appropriations for domestic activities total $16,700,000.

The largest item of this "home" budget is $7,800,000 for civilian relief work. This includes service and assistance for families of soldiers, sailors and marines, and work incidental to disaster. Of the total appropriation for civilian relief, $5,000,000 is held in reserve for the carrying out of actual disaster relief.

Reduced Overhead Expense.

The Red Cross invariably is the first thought of a community visited by calamity. With this in mind, it was determined by the Executive Committee in preparing the budget of 1919-20 to have a fixed reserve fund from which to draw in these instances.

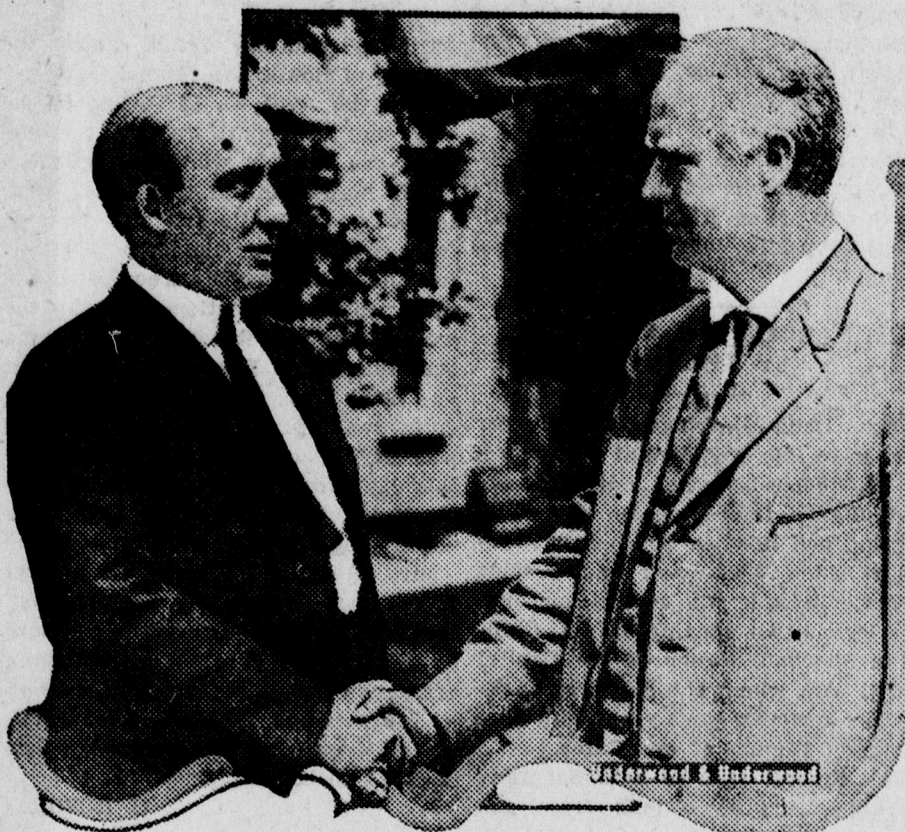

For assistance to soldiers, sailors and marines in hospitals and in camps this year $1,900,000 has been set aside. Four million two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated for improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the United States during the current twelve months. The Red Cross is co-operating fully with the United States Health Service in this work and through its Junior Red Cross is doing much to spread among children the principles of sanitation. An appropriation of $1,000,000 has been made for developing the peace time program of the Red Cross by service to its chapters in all regions.

The appropriation of $48,200,000 is exclusive of the local expenditures of the 3,000 or more chapters.

Administration expenses this year will be $1,800,000. Last year they were $2,300,000.

UNIVERSITIES OPPOSE ANTI-VIVISECTION

The board of regents of the University of California and the trustees of Stanford University have united in a public statement pointing out the menace to the public health, the injustice to them, and the danger to education, science, and research in the initiative measure No. 7 on anti-vivisection. The statement is as follows:

"The advance of sanitation, modern medicine, and physiology and the teaching of biology all rest on the use of appropriate animals for demonstration and research. The control of epidemic diseases, the management of surgical operations and of childbirth, and the certification of milk and water supplies would be impossible without the knowledge gained by such studies. In fact, the whole structure of the present-day protection of the public from disease rests upon studies made upon animals.

"The University of California and Stanford University are vitally interested in this initiative measure, since its passage would stop the research work now going on in their medical schools, hospitals, and laboratories, and in the Bureau of Animal Industry. The studies on botulism in olives, which will not only save the ripe olive industry of the state but many lives, would cease, as would likewise the manufacture of serum for the prevention of hog cholera, the preparation of vaccine for anthrax, and the various other measures that annually save millions of dollars and prevent great suffering among domestic animals. Even feeding experiments on animals would be impossible.

"No worse attack on the welfare of the state and on the right of the university to seek and teach accurate knowledge and information could be made. Every man, woman, and child, every unborn babe, every domestic animal in the state, will be affected if this measure becomes a law. No one will tolerate cruelty to animals. The present laws of the state are drastic and quite sufficient to control any abuse. We know that there is no cruelty to animals in the laboratories of the universities. They are in charge of men and women of the highest character who are unselfishly working to better the lot of their fellow-men. Anesthetics are always used for animals in the laboratory in exactly the same way that they are used by surgeons in the operating room.

"California must not go backward. We must be able to give the best care to both men and animals, to study disease, and to protect the industries of the state by further research. We urge upon the citizens of the state the defeat of this initiative."

(Signed) The Board of Trustees of Stanford University, by Ray Lyman Wilbur, President.
The Regents of the University of California, by David P. Barrows, President of University.

Editor The Enterprise—Dear Sir: Please allow me a little space in your paper for a few suggestions in regard to planting trees along the streets of South San Francisco. Certainly, the trees would be fine in the city, but how shall we protect them from the vandals who daily prey on small plants and flower beds along the streets? While the city is making provisions for the cost of planting and caring for the trees, it should also provide protection for them as well as for any flower planted along the sidewalks. Despite the fact that an ordinance prohibiting livestock from running all over the city lots was passed some months ago, up to this day it amounts to a joke, as livestock is still allowed to feed from edges and flower beds and lawns where there is no fence to protect them, and, despite the complainings that goes on, the parties who are paid by the city to enforce the livestock ordinance are doing next to nothing to prevent said livestock from keeping on destroying any vegetation that happens to be in their paths.

SEES IN HARDING BEST TRADITIONS, IDEALS AND HOPES

Nominee's Former Pastor Still Boosting Man Who Will Be Leader and Not Dictator.

FINDS IN SENATOR NO TRACE OF RADICALISM

Declares Justice, Kindliness and Mercy
Stand Out as Foremost Characteristics of Republican Candidate.

Included among the Minnesota Republicans working faithfully and industriously in behalf of Senator Harding, is Rev. D. B. Martin, of Winnebago, Minn., formerly pastor of the Marlon, Ohio, Baptist Church and Senator Harding's pastor. The other day Rev. Martin was asked just why he is so enthusiastic about Senator Harding, and this is what he said:

"It is a peculiar pleasure for me to continue the work which I began twenty-five years ago. It was my privilege to stand on the side lines and boost for Senator Harding when he received his first nomination for public office. When he was a candidate for the senate I was visiting in Ohio and had the pleasure of boosting for him. It is, therefore, a peculiar pleasure to join with this bunch of Minnesota boosters in seeking to put Senator Harding over, in the greatest gift within the power of the people. Being a clergyman, I have been constantly asked by my friends at the college commencement in Michigan, in Chicago and in Minnesota why I am such a persistent booster for Mr. Harding, and I have been asked to state in this presence my reasons for doing so. These are three:

"The first pertains to certain elements of his character. I will give you these as I received them while I was pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, of which Mr. Harding is a member. I asked him and a group of other men to make some Sunday evening addresses. I do not remember much that Senator Harding said at that time, but I do remember very distinctly the words with which he closed his address and which have stood all these years as outstanding elements of his character to me. He closed the address by a quotation from the Prophets, in which he said, 'And what doth the Lord thy God require of thee but to do justly and love mercy and walk humbly with thy God.' Justice, mercy, kindness and humility have in all these years stood as foremost characteristics of Mr. Harding's life—characteristics which are always attractive and make a man's life worth while.

"The second reason is because I believe that there is focused in him the best traditions, ideals and purposes of the great Republican party and so peculiarly fit him to be their leader in this great crisis of the nation's life. I use the word 'leader' advisedly, for it is leadership that we are needing and not arbitrary, dictatorial, autocratic rule. We have had enough of that. If a boss is desired there would be no need for making any change, for the boss that we have is the bossiest.

"The third reason is because I find in him no trace of radicalism. To me radicalism is the greatest danger that we have to face. Our interests are too diverse to admit of anything of that character. We have our agricultural group with its interests. We have the labor group with its interests. We have our financial interests. We have that other great group known as the public, that has always been made the 'goat,' with its interests. All of these are of vital interest to the common weal and I believe that Senator Harding is broad enough and sympathetic enough so that the interests of each will be blended in the common interest of all, and all will be perfectly safe under his leadership."

"READ THAT, MR. COX"

AND MR. COX DID READ.

A little incident connected with candidate Cox's recent campaign visit to New York indicates that the Democratic nominee is striving to forget certain indiscreet editorials which appeared in his newspaper, the Dayton News, before the owner of the paper aspired to the Presidency.

As the Democratic nominee was leaving the Hotel Commodore after luncheon a commercial traveler forced his way through the throng of curious spectators and thrust into Mr. Cox's hand an editorial clipping which proved to be his denunciation of the commercial travelers of the United States. "Read that, Mr. Cox," commanded the traveling man. The Democratic candidate unfolded the frayed column of newspaper matter, glanced at the heading, scanned the first paragraph, flushed scarlet to the ears and crumpling the offensive and offending editorial in his fist mumbled something which none of those near him at the time would repeat and hurried to his waiting automobile.

In 1904 one of Mr. Cox's newspapers denounced the arm of traveling salesmen as "unmitigated bores." What would he say now that he desires their votes?—South Bend (Ind.) Tribune.
